At the headquarters of the Washington Truth Society last night it was said that the Rev. Hans Schmidt, confessed murderer of Anna Rumiller, has not been a priest in good standing for a long time, all of his priestly powers having been removed by the Archhishop of New York. He has not been connected with St. Joseph's Church, of New York, it was said, but was probably visiting some of the ciercy with whom he was doubtless acquisited.

Fathers Hantman. McMulin, and Country are the only clergymin connected with St. Joseph's Church, according to the Truth Society's statement.
